A five-man team from Minnesota, representing District 14, jumped out to an early lead and won going away, 181-133, over the District 9 representatives from Florida.

The winners are Tim Barrett, Blaine MN; Joe Grue, Richfield MN; Joe Barrett, Brooklyn Park MN; Chengwei Lee, Minneapolis, and Tom Monikowski, West St. Paul MN.

The runners-up are Curtis Ruder, Atul Rai, Dennis Affholter and Jonathan Davidson, all of Tallahassee.

Except for Lee, who was added this year, the winning team was making up for losing in the round of 16 last year in the same event.

Tim Barrett, 37, is a movie theater manager. Grue, 16, is a junior in high school. Lee, known to his teammates as "Scooter," is a math major at the University of Minnesota. Joe Barrett, Tim's cousin, works for First Bank in the wire transfer department. Monikowski, 25, works for Qualex, a subsidiary of Kodak, as coordinator of the packaging department.

Rosenkranz leading Mixed B-A-M Teams

The team captained by Edith Rosenkranz took the lead after two qualifying sessions of the Mixed Board-a-Match Teams with a score of 34. Her teammates are husband George, Lynn Deas, Kerri Sanborn, Mark Lair and Eddie Wold.

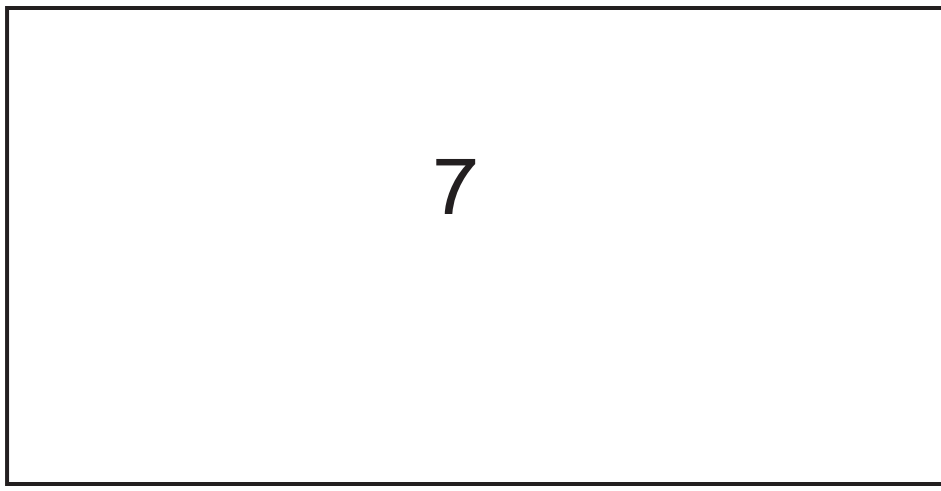

One board behind were Marc and Sandra Low and Sue and David Sachs. Tied for third-fourth at 32.5 were Walt and Kathie Walvick and Susan Green-Mike Cappelletti; Kit and Sally Woolsey, Jo Anne Casen, Lary Mori and Martha and Ralph Katz.

Illinois players lead Red Ribbon

Two players from Buffalo Grove IL took a lead of nearly 63 matchpoints after two qualifying sessions of the Red Ribbon Pairs. Out front with two sessions to play today are David Langer and Mark Ginsberg.

In second place were Hank Youngerman of Longwood FL and Daniel Levin of Chicago.

Two Dallas-area players were in third place, less than two matchpoints out of second. They are Mark Baumgardner, Carrollton, and Nagy Kamel, Plano.

I/N turnout a pleasant surprise

Going into the Summer NABC in Albuquerque, ACBL's Intermediate-Novice Coordinator Betty Bratcher wasn't quite sure what to expect -- and in her wildest dreams she didn't think so many players would turn out for the beginner games.

"They came, they tried us, they liked it and they came back," said Bratcher of the surprising turnout in the I/N games. "We've had a lot of repeaters."

Through Saturday evening, the

Betty Bratcher and Marilyn Anderson

table count in the I/N games stood at about 800, well in excess of what was expected.

Bratcher said the new players have been uniformly excited about duplicate and the I/N program at the NABC. "They love the trophies," said Bratcher. "They get all excited."

Typical of the new players were Meg Miller of Los Angeles and Laura Limbrick of Denver, old friends from their school days in the mid-Eighties at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore.

They arrived from their respective homes Thursday to play in the 0-50 games and were thrilled to have won about two-thirds of a masterpoint so far. They were planning on playing on Sunday as well before heading home. Their goal: a full masterpoint.

"We're rockin' and rollin'," said

District 4 rallies for GNT-B victory

Trailing by 38 IMPs, the District 4 team from Delaware routed their District 3 opponents, 50-9, in the fourth quarter to win the Grand National Teams, Flight B, 131-128.

The winners are Harold Jordan and Sigridur "Sóley" Kristjansdottir, Wilmington DE; Andy Kaufman, Smyrna DE, and Greg Burch, Newark DE.

The runners-up are Steve Albin, Princeton NJ; Elaine Pittius, Bridgewater NJ; Julia Ehlers, West Orange NJ, and Michael McNamara, Morristown NJ.

Jordan, 26, and Burch, 25, are computer programmers for Blair Computing Services of Newark DE.

Kaufman, 38, and Kristjansdottir both work for DuPont. Kaufman is a chemical engineer/project engineer. Kristjansdottir is a research chemist. Originally from Iceland, she has been in the U.S. for 12 years.

Three members of the losing team are regular OKbridge players, and they asked that they be identified by their OKbridge "handles." McNamara is "Daddymac," Pittius is "PityUS" and Albin is SteveA.

The match was close after one quarter, 44-36 for District 3, but the winners were bombed, 67-23, in the second quarter and trailed by 52 at the break. In the second half, however, District 4 outscored their opponents, 72-17.

It's Cayne vs. Baze: Nickell streak ends

The team captained by Grant Baze took the measure of the Nick Nickell squad, 162-129, in the Spingold Knock-out Teams semifinal and will meet Jimmy Cayne's team, come-from-behind 153-138 winners over Rita Shugart and company, in today's final.

The final can be seen on vugraph beginning at noon at the Hyatt, second floor Pavilion Ballroom.

The Baze victory ends the Nickell team's Spingold winning streak at four. The lineups:

- Baze, Tipton Golias, Cezary Balicki, Adam Zmudzinski, Merck Szymanowski and Marcin Lesniewski.

Great attendance

The crowds dwindled yesterday, the way they always do toward the end of an NABC. Nevertheless there were enough players to bring the table count up to 10,719. We need only about 300 tables a session today to surpass 11,300 tables -- a great showing.

Propelled by fate

Sometimes, it seems, you're destined to win, and just about anything you do turns out right. A case in point is this deal from the first final session of the IMP Pairs, won by Junior players Tom Carmichael and Joel Wooldridge. In that set, the two ended up plus 102 IMPs.

Carmichael and Wooldridge had a bidding misunderstanding to reach a slam which, on the surface at least, had rather poor prospects. As it happened, however, the slam was cold -- if Wooldridge found the right line of play.

(2) Showing a strong hand and, to Wooldridge, denying four hearts.

(3) Taken by Wooldridge as a cuebid.

(4) Taken by Carmichael as looking for a stopper for notrump.

(5) Intended as a raise of diamonds, taken by Wooldridge as Roman Key Card Blackwood for clubs.

(6) Intended by Wooldridge as a heart cuebid or a waiting action.

(7) Intended as a signoff by Carmichael, taken by Wooldridge as asking for specific kings.

(8) Showing the ♦K -- Wooldridge still thinks the trump suit is clubs.

When Carmichael bid 6♦, Wooldridge began to realize that the wheels had come off in the auction. Rather than trying to improve the contract -- he had no idea to what, of course -- Wooldridge passed.

Thanks to some lucky breaks in the red suits, Wooldridge was able to redeem himself in the play.

West led the ♠10 to Wooldridge's ace. Wooldridge cashed dummy's two diamonds and played a heart to his queen. East attempted a falsecard with the ♥J.

In hand again, Wooldridge held his breath and played the ♦K. When both opponents followed, Wooldridge knew he was still alive. Rejecting the possible finesse in hearts, Wooldridge played to the ♥A and cashed the ♥K. When both opponents followed again, he discarded his losing spade on the 13th heart and ruffed a spade to hand.

Wooldridge then played a low club from his hand. West, with nothing but clubs left, could take his one trick in the suit immediately or later, but it was the only trick for the defense.

Plus 920 was good for a 10-IMP gain.

Fred Hamilton

Hamilton poised to top 25,000 masterpoints today

Fred Hamilton, two-time world champion, almost certainly will surpass 25,000 masterpoints today. He needs less than 1 masterpoint to go over and is playing on a strong team in the Senior Swiss Teams.

His masterpoint total puts him at #8 on the all-time list.

Long one of the top professional players, Hamilton has a win in the 1976 Bermuda Bowl and the World Senior Pairs with Hamish Bennett in 1994. Hamilton has been second in the Bermuda Bowl and the World Team Olympiad.

In addition, Hamilton won the Cavendish Invitational Pairs with Jimmy Cayne in 1981. He was second in the Omar Sharif World Individual in 1990.

Hamilton has won nine North American championships, most recently the Senior Knockout Teams last fall in San Francisco. He has been second in 11 major ACBL championships.

He captured the Herman Trophy, for winning the most masterpoints at a Fall NABC, in 1974.

Going into the Summer NABC, the Fresno CA resident's masterpoint total stood at 24,936 and a fraction. Through Saturday afternoon, Hamilton had earned 62.99 masterpoints at the Summer NABC.

Gold Life Master

Joel Wooldridge, who won the IMP Pairs on Friday, had another victory yesterday when his team won a knockout teams event. The points he won yesterday were enough to put the 18-year-old in the Gold Life Master class (more than 2500 masterpoints).

Make your foes decide early

In situations where the opponents will have to decide how to play a hand, it is usually best to force them to decide early. This hand comes from the Round of 32 in the Spingold. It was defended by Alex Kolesnik and Varis Carey, both of Austin TX.

Kolesnik and Carey played on a team with Steve Altus, Joel Singer and Amy Lewis. Carey, Singer and Lewis are members of the United States I Junior team which will be playing in Canada next week in the World Junior Championships. Altus is their coach and non-playing captain.

Against 4♥, Carey led the ♦J. Declarer ducked and Kolesnik won the king. At this point the distribution and honor card placement were entirely known. It looked as if a diamond continuation would be needed to kill the dummy entry to the spades. However, Kolesnik considered what would come next. Declarer would be forced to draw trumps and play on spades. When in with the ♠A, after holding up one round, Kolesnik would have been forced to play a club and declarer could not go wrong.

Instead Kolesnik decided to lead a club immediately, to see if declarer would go wrong. Declarer found the correct play of ducking, and Carey ducked also. Now declarer could have succeeded by drawing trumps and playing spades, since the suit broke 3-3. But he decided to play spades first, not realizing the club danger. Kolesnik won and got a club ruff to defeat the contract for a 10-IMP gain.

Even though their team lost the match, the Junior players all played extremely well to get that far in the Spingold. They defeated two higher-seeded teams.

Good sports

By Roger Lord and Jacque Sincoff

In the final session of the IMP Pairs Friday night, our bizarre tactical bidding set up our opponents -- Matthew Connor and Alex Balandin -- for a monumental misunderstanding. While the resulting 1400-point set cost them 17 IMPs, it failed to dispirit them.

Displaying a sporting sense of humor uncommon in such a highly competitive event, Balandin turned to the chief instigator, on his right, and surmised, "I'll bet this is your favorite hand of all time!"

By the way, the two good sports earned an 11-IMP swing on the next deal.

With the ♥J dropping singleton and the ♣Q onside, Beth had no trouble wrapping up her contract -- five spades, four hearts, three clubs and a diamond.

Farewell to Albuquerque

As we prepare to leave Albuquerque, take a moment to say thanks to the local committee volunteers who have worked so hard to make this Summer NABC a real treat.

Special thanks to Gloria Kriegshauser and Judy Gucker and all the District 17 workers.

See you at the Fall NABC in St. Louis.

Chairman, Goodwill Committee

OKbridge not selling memberships at NABC

Earlier in the tournament, a person representing himself as an OKbridge employee apparently sold several "memberships" to OKbridge for $25.

Matthew Clegg, founder of OKbridge, said OKbridge is not selling memberships at the NABC and that anyone who bought the reduced-price "membership" contact OKbridge and his or her bank if the payment was by check.

OKbridge can be reached at 619-490-6770. Memberships are $79 per year.

Mind games

When you're playing against the best, sometimes you get ideas about what the opponents are doing. If that idea is wrong, you can get into trouble. That happened when Bobby Wolff and Bob Hamman were defending the following slam from the Spingold Knockout Teams quarterfinal round.

(1) Forcing to game.

Wolff led a low spade to dummy's jack, and declarer played a heart to the ace and ruffed a heart. Next he played the ♣Q from dummy, ducked all around. The ♣J was next. Hamman followed low and South started to think. He was fearful that Wolff was ducking the ♣K and planned to win the next round and give Hamman a ruff. With this in his mind, declarer finally went up with the ♣A, which Wolff ruffed.

Now Wolff had to think. Wolff knew declarer still had two losing hearts in his hand, so the natural instinct was to return a trump to prevent any more ruffs. That would have been disastrous, however.

Had Wolff exited with a trump, declarer's only option would have been to run trumps hoping for something good to happen -- and it would have worked. Wolff's hand would have gone through the proverbial meatgrinder. If he discarded more than one diamond, the entire suit would run after the finesse of the jack, and if he threw both his heart honors, declarer could cash the ♥10 before taking the diamond finesse, not needing the low diamond spots.

Wolff finally arrived at the solution -- he got out with the ♥K, forcing declarer to use dummy's last trump and making it impossible for declarer to get to his hand without playing on diamonds and thereby breaking the communication necessary for a squeeze to work.

Thanks, Jody

Many of the articles you have seen in these Daily Bulletins this week were prepared in advance by Jody Latham, a member of the staff of the ACBL Bridge Bulletin.

Don't mess with Larry

When Larry Cohen bids a slam, it's best not to be too hasty about doubling, as his opponents on this deal from the quarterfinals of the Spingold Knockout Teams learned to their chagrin. Unfortunately for Cohen and partner David Berkowitz, the huge gain on the board wasn't enough to salvage the match.

(1) Four-of-a-minor preempt.

(2) Settling for game if partner's suit is diamonds -- willing to play slam if partner's suit is clubs.

(3) Trying to have the slam played from Cohen's side.

East could have defeated the slam with the lead of either red suit, but he was guessing about his opening lead -- and he guessed wrong. Cohen ruffed the opening spade lead in dummy and played a club, going up with the ace.

Cohen then cashed the ♠A and ♠K, pitching diamonds from dummy, and ruffed a fourth round, setting up the two long spades in his hand. He then gave East his club trick and claimed -- dummy's two losing hearts would go on the established spades.

Plus 1380 was good for a 16-IMP gain. At the other table, the slam was played from the South side. With the ♥K lead, the slam was doomed. It was not enough, however, as their opponents -- the Jimmy Cayne squad -- won handily, 138-104.

Gunnell won the opening spade lead, pitching a club, and ruffed a spade. He took a finesse to the trump 8 in an attempt to get an extra entry to dummy. It worked, so he ruffed another spade. After crossing to the trump jack, he ruffed another spade, but the suit didn't drop. Time to look for something else.

He crossed to the ♣A and took a heart finesse, also a success. Then he led a second club, and East was forced to win. He had to lead a heart to give declarer a third heart trick and his contract.

Of course East could have made it more difficult by dropping the king under the ♣A, but then West would have risen with the queen on the next club lead to swallow East's jack, a so-called crocodile coup.

Hog banished to Hog Purgatory

"What do you mean? You picked against BAZE, a TEAM OF DESTINY! Do you realize where you are? No team of destiny loses around here, it just doesn't happen that way. Don't you understand that when the bridge gods deemed it providential for BAZE to win not one, but two squeakers (2 IMPs each), we were sending a message?"

"But, but, but," stammered the HOG, "rule #1, NICKELL never loses, Mr. S. Somebody help me -- rule #1 never has failed me in three years."

"You obviously haven't earned your wings. And on top of that you flagrantly mock our divine signals. For this, you are hereby exiled to Hog Purgatory. As your final assignment you may educate the public as to why Rule #1 is so. Then off you go."

"For the first time in 50 years, I the HOG am speechless. You have witnessed my reprimand. It is obvious to all now (even I, the formerly non-believing HOG) who will be the winner tomorrow.

"Yes, it is destined. Yet another second-place finish for Cayne, who, led by their leader, vanquished Shugart in the fourth quarter yesterday. As well as Cayne is playing, it won't matter. The Bridge Gods have spoken. It's over. So be it. Now where is that damn down elevator?"

• Cayne, Chuck Burger, Mark Feldman, Alan Sontag, Mike Passell and Michael Seamon.

The Baze team, with four professional players from Poland, jumped out to a 68-16 lead over Nickell after 16 boards, then saw Nickell close the gap with a 50-15 second quarter. The halftime score was 83-66 for Baze.

Nickell seemed poised for a comeback, but the Baze squad won the third quarter, 34-23, and added another 5 IMPs in the fourth quarter for the impressive win.

There was more drama in the Cayne-Shugart contest. Shugart's international squad -- Zia is Pakistani, Geir Helgemo from Norway and Tony Forrester and Andy Robson from Great Britain -- jumped out to a 57-45 first-quarter lead and was ahead, 87-81, at the half. Going into the fourth quarter, the Shugart squad was up, 118-102.

At that point, Cayne and company came alive with a 51-20 final set. The team will seek to make up for the disappointment of losing in the final of the Vanderbilt Knockout Teams earlier this year at the Spring NABC in Dallas.

Laurah Limbrick and Meg Miller.

Novices continued from page 1

Limbrick, a technical writer who does a lot of contract work in Colorado Springs.

Miller works as an editor and translator for Berlitz Translations, working in Latin, Italian, French and German.

She recalls playing in a tournament in Baltimore when she was in school. "There were a lot of angry players," Miller said, "and it turned me off. I played only party bridge after that."

That was, until Limbrick called and invited her to play in the NABC.

Her experience this time has been positive. "We're having a blast," Miller said, "and Bob is great." She was referring to Bob Bratcher, a tournament director who is working the I/N games at the NABC.

Robert Fogarty of Andover MA and Susan Kraght of Seattle, who formed a partnership in the hallway earlier in the tournament, were thrilled to have won the 299er game Saturday afternoon. Earlier in the week, they had braved the IMP Pairs game.

Betty Bratcher gives much of the credit for the success of the I/N program to Marilyn Anderson, local I/N chairman for the NABC.

Said Bratcher of Anderson: "She got out and beat the bushes."

After taking bridge classes in 1994, Anderson decided she wanted to teach the game, too. The World Bridge Championships played in Albuquerque that year included a Teacher Accreditation Program taught by Audrey Grant. Anderson signed up and loved it.

For a year and a half after that, she taught bridge at the Duke City Duplicate Bridge Club in Albuquerque. At one point, she realized that there was no novice program at the club, so she and another player started one.

Now she has a thriving novice game each Monday morning at Duke City, and she's teaching bridge through the continuing education program at the University of New Mexico.

Anderson is committed because she believes the I/N program is vital to the long-term viability of the ACBL. "Our future is in our students and getting them interested in duplicate bridge," she said.

Anderson still plays when she gets a chance, but it's not easy fitting that in with teaching and traveling with her husband David, who is retired.

Teaching and helping promote bridge are passions with Anderson. "I love it," she said. "I've done a lot of volunteer work for other people. This is something I'm doing for myself."

No place to stay

Three women here to play bridge had no place to stay. Bob Davis came to the rescue -- he turned his trailer over to the three women and slept in his truck.

Bob is 55 today, and guess what he's going to do. That's right -- he's going to play in a Senior event for the first time.

Quick as a wink

George Rosenkranz was impressed by the play a woman made against him in the Master Mixed Teams - and he winked at her. The woman immediately said, "But I'm married." And George, quick as a wink, responded, "And I'm too old."

Spingold final on vugraph at Hyatt

The 64-board final of the Spingold Knock-out Teams will be shown live on vugraph today beginning at noon. The show will take place in the Pavilion Ballroom at the Hyatt.

The chief commentator will be Karen Allison, who has been instrumental in offering live commentary via Internet to bridge followers on the web. She also has done a good deal of live audio commentary, notably in the 1995 Women's International Team Trials.

Edgar Kaplan, one of the greatest commentators of all time, will be available on a part-time basis. David Berkowitz and George Jacobs also will offer their views to the vugraph audience.

From time to time other experts will take the mike when they are not playing.

Raffle winners

1. Quilt -- Jane Talso, Albuquerque
2. Cross-stitch -- Lois Vauler, Maryland Heights MO
3. Afghan -- Hal St. John, Albuquerque
4. Art of Albuquerque (purple) -- Bernice Clark, Wichita KS
5. Art of Albuquerque (green) -- Jan Fox, Etobicoke ON

Charity Foundation funds well guarded

The Charity Foundation has tried very hard to improve its image after the travesty of the embezzlement. We are now in possession of the same amount of money that the membership of the ACBL had contributed in good faith.

We have continued to make contributions to very worthy causes that you would be proud of. The five trustees were audited and totally in shock when the auditors and trustees were stolen from. We have new accounting methods that make it just about impossible for your money to be stolen again.

We also have voted to upscale our thank-you cards. The ways by which you make contributions other than through ACBL Charity Games are most appreciated. You are making contributions to honor our deceased friends with memorials, to honor a big win by one of your friends, to honor a kindness shown to you, to honor someone who exhibited active ethics -- maybe just to honor someone who is not playing as often and whom you miss.

From the above I'd like to make the first contribution. I really miss Betty Ann being on the scene.

The trustees want you to know that it is our duty to disburse your funds in the proper way. I know we, the ACBL, are proud to be part of an organization that works so hard to help others. Thank you.
