Winners of the Wagar Women's Knockout Teams:
Top, Kathy Sulgrove, Pam Wittes and Renee Mancuso; bottom, JoAnn Sprung, Peggy Sutherlin and Karen Allison.

Tops in the IMP Pairs: Nikolay Demirev and Jiang Gu.

IMP winners learned well in former homes

Jiang Gu of Mountain Lake NJ learned to play bridge in his native Shanghai. Nikolay Demirev learned to play in Bulgaria. Apparently they learned well because today they reign as the NABC IMP Pairs champions. In the final session they climbed all the way from 20th to the top.

Right behind them were Steve Robinson and Peter Boyd.

Gu came to the United States in 1995 where he works as an analyst for a major pharmaceutical

They won the 0-1500 Mini Spingold Knockout Teams: Ronald Resnick, Myron Rimer, Norton Rimer and Mark Teaford.

Sprung captures Wagar Knockout

The team captained by JoAnn Sprung jumped out to a 55-IMP lead in the first quarter and were never threatened in winning the Wagar Women's Knockout Teams 169-119 over the squad led by Hansa Narasimhan.

The winners are Sprung, Philadelphia; Kathy Sulgrove, Twinsburg OH; Pam Wittes, Venice CA; Renee Mancuso, Los Angeles; Karen Allison, Las Vegas, and Peggy Sutherlin, Dallas.

They defeated Narasimhan, of Los Altos Hills CA; Irina Levitina, Fair Lawn NJ; Jill Levin,

Teaford squad wins 0-1500 Mini-Spingold

A team of good friends that includes twin brothers rode a monster second quarter to an easy victory in the 0-1500 Mini-Spingold Knockout Teams.

The winners are Mark Teaford, Kihei HI; Ronald Resnick, Wailuku HI, and twins Norton Rimer, La Jolla CA, and Myron Rimer, New City NY.

Spingold enters semifinal round

Teams captained by Mike Kamil, Nick Nickell, George Jacobs and Warren Spector have advanced to the semifinal round of the Spingold Knockout Teams. There will be vugraph of the semifinals today starting at 4:30 p.m. in the Regent Room.

All but one of the quarterfinal matches was close as Kamil took the measure of the Jimmy Cayne squad (Charles Weed npc) 127-118. Nickell led the Lou Ann O'Rourke squad by only 10 IMPs going into the final quarter before prevailing 129-103. Spector's lead over the Mike Moss squad was only 7 IMPs, but they came through with a 149-138 victory.

Summer NABC Co-Chairs Jerry Goodman and Bill Rosenbaum.

NABC co-chairs pleased with tournament outcome

It's been three and a half years since Bill Rosenbaum and Jerry Goodman started work together as co-chairmen of the 2004 Summer NABC in New York.

Thanks, they say, to all the good work by their committee chairs, the task of putting the big tournament on has not been especially onerous.

Not that it hasn't been a lot of work, but the two are well pleased to see the Summer NABC heading for an unexpected 13,000 tables – and getting lots of positive comments from the players.

Rosenbaum, who lives in Manhattan, was chairman for District 24. Goodman, of Fort Lee NJ,

Bridge popularity is high in Poland

Radoslaw Kielbasinski, president of the Polish Bridge Union, is in New York City as the head of the Polish school teams, and has taken time to observe all of the bridge competition at the Summer NABC.

He was proud to note the victory by his young countrymen in the first World Schools Team Championship, but not surprised. The team fielded by Poland in the event organized by the World Bridge Federation was very strong, Kielbasinski says. A member of the team, Michal Nowosadzki, won the 1st World Junior Individual Championship as well.

A brief talk with Kielbasinski reveals quite a contrast in the status of bridge between his nation

Lou Sunshine's play impresses Robinson

Steve Robinson was impressed by the way Lou Sunshine played this deal from the first qualifying session of the IMP Pairs. He was impressed enough to bring it to our attention.

Sunshine knew the trumps weren't going to split 3-3 – he heard the double. He ruffed the second diamond and led a heart to the 10. Next came the ♠J and South took his king. When South led a high diamond, Sunshine discarded a heart rather than shorten his trumps even further. On the fourth round of diamonds, he ruffed with dummy's ace.

He passed the ♣Q and then took a finesse to the ♠10. After cashing the trump queen he took the ♣A and led to dummy's ♥A. The lead was in dummy at trick 12, and he had the ♠10-7 over South's ♠9-4. Plus 590 on the trump coup for a huge IMP gain.

They were second in the Wagar Women's Knockout Teams: top, Irina Levitina, JoAnna Stansby and Debbie Rosenberg; bottom, Jill Levin, Hansa Narasimhan and Sue Picus.

Double trouble

By Mark Itabashi

This deal from the second session of the IMP Pairs is another illustration of how dangerous it can be to double holding a trump stack, thus alerting declarer to the distribution. My partner was Eric Leong, sitting South.

West started with the ♣K to Leong's ace. Eric, who lives in Oakland CA, figured trumps were 5-0, and he played accordingly. He went to dummy with the ♦A and passed the ♠Q, then led a diamond to the king and ruffed a diamond.

Eric then ruffed a club and played a good diamond from hand, discarding a spade from dummy. East ruffed and played the ♠K, smothering dummy's now-singleton ♠Q, but Eric was still in control. He won the ♠A and ruffed a spade. This was the position as Eric played a club:

♥ —	♥ K Q 10 8
♣ Q J 10	♣ —
	♥ J 7 6
	♦ J

Eric had eight tricks in at this point and could not be prevented from taking two more. If East ruffs in with the ♥K or ♥Q, he would have to return a trump. Eric would simply put in the ♥J for trick nine with the trump ace to come. If East did not ruff high, Eric would score his trump jack one trick earlier.

Plus 790 was good for a 10-IMP gain. Well played, Eric.

Computer finalists: Bridge Baron, Jack

The World Computer Championship final today will be a repeat of last year's final – Jack (the Netherlands) vs. Bridge Baron (USA).

Bridge Baron finished first in the eight-computer round-robin and beat Micro Bridge (Japan), 143-101, in their 64-board semifinal. Jack finished third in the round-robin and then defeated Wbridge5 (France), 157-118, in the semis.

The final will start at 9 this morning in Concourse H.

A most interesting deal arose in the match between Jack and Wbridge5. You can make at least 12 tricks in notrump from one side, but there are serious dangers of going set in 3NT if played from the other side.

(1) One ace.

This was the Jack auction – well done indeed. Not only was it played from the correct side, it was also played in slam. East's 1♠ bid gave the partnership plenty of room to learn the strength of the combined hands. Jack actually made seven when South did not lead the ♥A.

This was the Wbridge5 auction. East's jump to 2♠ took up a lot of bidding room, so East-West never were able to determine the great strength they had between them. They wound up in 3NT, but they couldn't even make that. The Jack North led the ♥Q and the defenders quickly grabbed the first five tricks for plus 1570 on the board.

and North America, where the ACBL is working to promote the game and enhance its credibility.

In Poland, bridge rivals every sport except the national passions of soccer and volleyball — and there is no question in that country that bridge is truly a sport.

In the nation of 37 million people, 2 million of them play bridge, although the Polish Bridge Union has only about 7000 members. That's because membership in the PBU is all about playing on teams in regular competitions. Most of the players don't have the time or inclination to keep up with the schedule of play that is required.

That doesn't mean the Polish players are not flocking to the bridge clubs and tournaments, however. It's just that they aren't seeking masterpoints. At nearly every tournament, says Kielbasinski, at least 50% of the entry fees go into a pool for cash prizes.

Meanwhile, bridge gets lots of positive publicity. Once a year, there is a special promotional game under the patronage of the marshal of Poland's Parliament, a position analogous to the Speaker of the House of Representatives in the U.S.

Many celebrities in Poland — movie stars, sports figures — play and promote bridge, and there are annual competitions among about 20 different professions such as lawyers, doctors, police officers and soldiers.

"To win a championship among soldiers," says Kielbasinski, "is the dream of many officers."

Kielbasinski is general manager of the Warsaw branch of Jyske Bank, the second largest bank in Denmark. There is even a championship for players in his field organized under the auspices of the Polish equivalent of the Securities and Exchange Commission in the U.S.

Reflecting on the success of the young players in the competition in New York, Kielbasinski notes that the structure of bridge in Poland has made the game very popular among young people.

In Poland, there are four categories of play for so-called Juniors: up to 15 years old, 16-18, 19-20 and 21-25. There is a national championship for the young players in each of the categories. There are other competitions they may enter, including one open event.

One of Poland's brightest young players, says Kielbasinski, is Jan Sikora, who played in the pairs trials to select the national team, and came in 11th, an outstanding achievement.

The main role of the PBU is to organize national team championships. The first league, he says, has 16 teams, made up of the country's top players. The second league has four groups of 16 teams, and the third has 16 groups of 16 teams. Players are always trying to advance to the top league. The teams competition begins in autumn and finishes the following May. Travel is involved, along with lots of weekend play, so many Polish players find they don't have the time or the desire to travel, so they skip the teams format.

The winner of the first league competition earns the title of national champions and they represent Poland in the European Cup. Many of the teams, says Kielbasinski, have sponsors — usually companies rather than individuals.

The European Cup differs from the European Bridge League's tournament to select squads for international competition such as the Bermuda Bowl. For the EBL tournament, the Polish team is selected through a pairs trial.

Besides his duties in his regular job and with the PBU, Kielbasinski is a vice president of the EBL and a member of the executive committee of the World Bridge Federation.

He is a non-stop promoter of the game, and with only a little prompting will tell anyone who wants to know about the advantages of bridge over other sports.

Bridge doesn't require physical attributes such as running fast or being very strong or being tall — and you don't have to quit playing when you turn 40. Says Kielbasinski: "It's a sport for life."

Poland's Michal Nowosadzki, center, receives a trophy for winning the World Junior Individual Championship. With him are Polish Bridge Union President Radoslaw Kielbasinski, Jim Mahaffey, Bobby Wolff and World Bridge Federation President Jose Damiani.

Polish youngster victor in 2 events

It appears that Michal Nowosadzki of Poland has a brilliant bridge future ahead of him. The 21-year-old youngster already has two world championships to his credit at this tournament. Yesterday he won the first World Junior Individual, and he was a member of the Polish team that took first place in the World School Championships.

His teammates in the Schools competition were Marcin Malesa, Piotr Nawrocki, Filip Niziol, Prezmyslaw Piotrowski and Jan Sikora, with Leszek Nowak as non-playing captain.

Nowosadzki stood second after the first two sessions of the four-session Individual, but he climbed into the lead during the third session. Gabby Feiler put strong pressure on him over the final boards, but Nowosadzki held on to win by .09%. For the four sessions he had 57.97% while Feiler had 57.88.

The highest ranking female was Meike Wortel of the Netherlands, who finished third with 56.34%. America's top finisher was Robert Glickman, who placed fourth with 56.25%.

Nowosadzki has been playing bridge a long time — 15 years — even though he is only 21 years old. His father is an avid bridge player and started his son on his way at just about the time Michal could hold 13 cards. He is now studying economics at the university level.

This is the third World Junior Championship he has attended. He was at Stargard, Poland, in 2001 and Bata, Hungary, last year.

Breaking Richie's rule

By Glenn Eisenstein

One of New York's best-loved characters was Richie Khautin, known as Big Richie to his friends. One of Richie's rules was you couldn't take more bids on a hand than the number of points you hold. Sorry, Richie, but this is what I did on Board 28 of the first qualifying session of the IMP Pairs.

I got a spade lead, and South switched to the ♥K. I played the ♣Q, losing to the king, and South cashed the trump queen. But that was all the defense could get — we got plus 590 by breaking Richie's rule.

2nd European Open set for Tenerife

Last year's inaugural European Open Bridge Championship in Menton attracted many North American teams. The same format — with an air-conditioned playing site — will take place on Tenerife, Canary Islands, June 18 - July 2 next year. Defensive endplay

An interesting end position arises on this deal from the first qualifying session of the IMP Pairs.

Board 10 ♠ 10 6 3
 Dlr: East ♥ 9 8 6 2
 Vul: Both ♦ J 9 4
 ♣ Q 9 6

♠ A J 9 4	♠ K Q 7 5 2
♥ 10 5	♥ K
♦ 10 7 3	♦ A K 5 2
♣ J 7 5 4	♣ K 10 3

	♥ A Q J 7 4 3
	♦ Q 8 6
	♣ A 8 2
West	North	East	South
		1♠	2♥
3♠	Pass	4♠	All Pass

The opening lead was the ♦6 to the jack and ace. Declarer got out with the ♥K. South won and continued with the ♥Q. Declarer ruffed, drew three rounds of trumps, cashed the ♦K and got out with another diamond to South's queen. The five-card ending:

♠ —	♠ Q
♥ 9 8	♥ —
♦ —	♦ 2
♣ Q 9 6	♣ K 10 3

♠ J	♠ —
♥ —	♥ J 7
♣ J 7 5 4	♣ A 8 2

South has to break clubs by leading low, and North must play the 9. Declarer can win the 10 and cash the long diamond, but then he has to lead away from his ♣K and go down one.

Sulgrove, whose previous North American championship was the Mixed Pairs in 1984, was winning the women's KO for the first time. All of her teammates have won the event previously, Sprung pointing out that her last win in the event was 10 years ago.

"We were lucky enough," said Sprung, "that Pam and Renee were available and wanted to play with us."

Said Mancuso: "We all meshed well."

The match was decided more or less in the first set when Sprung jumped out to a 66-11 lead. Harasimhan won the second and third quarters, but picked up only 24 IMPs. They dropped the final set 60-41.

represents District 3.

Both are retired, Rosenbaum from a job as a securities analyst for an investment banking firm, and Goodman as a physicist for the American Institute of Physics.

Both have experience in tournament operations dating from the mid-Eighties, and Rosenbaum is one of four principals involved with the Cavendish Invitational, which moved from New York to Las Vegas several years ago. Goodman has been involved with many District 3 regionals and was co-chairman of the 1991 Spring NABC in Atlantic City.

Although reluctant to thank committee chairs by name for fearing of leaving one out, both thought Jim Schneider, volunteer chairman for the NABC, deserved special mention for his contributions.

Rosenbaum and Goodman expected the tournament to come together successfully. The unknown was attendance. "Nobody knew what the commuter business would be," says Rosenbaum.

For those who did come, says Goodman, "the players are having a good time."

Truly international

One of the teams in the Thursday Night Zip Knockouts was truly international, with three European countries represented. Two are from Austria—Dieter Schulz and Martin Rokyta. The other team members were Gerald Pfeifer of England and Pimp Kare Gjaldbaek of Denmark.

Mini-Spingold I

They defeated Doris Banks, Coram NY; Christine Woodring Setauket NY; Paul Lenoble, Freeport NY, and Lew Kroll, Plainview NY.

Trailing 31-29 after the first quarter, Teaford stormed into the lead with a 71-3 second quarter and cruised to a 164-94 victory.

Resnick and Teaford are residents of Maui in Hawaii, having moved there 25 years ago. Resnick is a physician in general practice. Teaford describes himself as a "free agent," formerly in the hotel property management business.

Myron Rimer is a retired public school teacher who now plies his trade in a private school. Norton is an engineer working for a defense contractor in San Diego. The Rimers, fraternal twins, have played together for 30 years. Norton spends four months a year on the island of Maui.

firm. He took up the game when he was 17, and he's happy he now competes in America. "The players here are much more advanced, and I enjoy playing against good players."

Demirev has been in America only four years, and he's working two jobs – a teacher of an English Second Language class and a mental health counselor. But that's not what he wants to do. He earned his MD as a doctor in Bulgaria, but he has to do two years of study and a year of residency to practice medicine here.

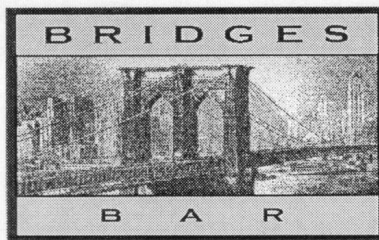

He started playing when he was 19, which made his mother unhappy – she told him he had much better things to do with his time. He is now married, and his wife Darina also plays.

They began playing with each other because they both had a partnership with Xiadong Shi on OKbridge. Shi introduced them to each other, and they started playing regularly on OKbridge, building their own version of two-over-one along the way.

From bad to better

Marion Fulfaro of Sayville NY was at her wit's end. She told Tournament Director Stan Tench she was having a bad set in a knockout match. "I revoked, I pulled a wrong card and I got doubled and went down – and we've only played three boards so far," she said.

She saw Stan again after finishing the first half, and this time she was smiling. "We're ahead by 10," she said. Later Stan discovered that they actually won the match.

Autumn is a beach in the Mid-Atlantic

Two of the Mid-Atlantic's most delightful venues are on the calendar this autumn, and we invite you to turn cards on the shores of the Atlantic Ocean. Balmy off-season weather, attractive off-season rates.

JEKYLL ISLAND, GA, OCT. 11-17

Play in the spacious convention center with two host hotels: Days Inn & Suites (912) 635-9800 and Holiday Inn (912) 635-3311. Scores of other properties nearby and on the oceanfront.

• Co-chair: Vernon Reed (912) 638-4661, vreed@adelphia.net.

VIRGINIA BEACH, VA, NOV. 1-7

View the lapping waters of the Atlantic from the hotel's main ballroom, and walk or jog along the shoreline. FREE on-site light suppers and great all-around hospitality.

Cavalier Hotel (757) 423-8555, ask for $78 bridge rate by Sept. 30.
• Co-chair: Anne Duty (757) 420-4980, amarie0919@aol.com.

Fliers on regional information table, visit www.mabcbridge.org

Hugh Ross, one of the finest players and one of the nicest guys in all of bridge, is missing from action here in New York due to two strokes he suffered last month.

He is sorely missed by his friends. We, some of his multitude of friends, wish him a speedy recovery. We want him to know that our thoughts are with him and his wife Min.

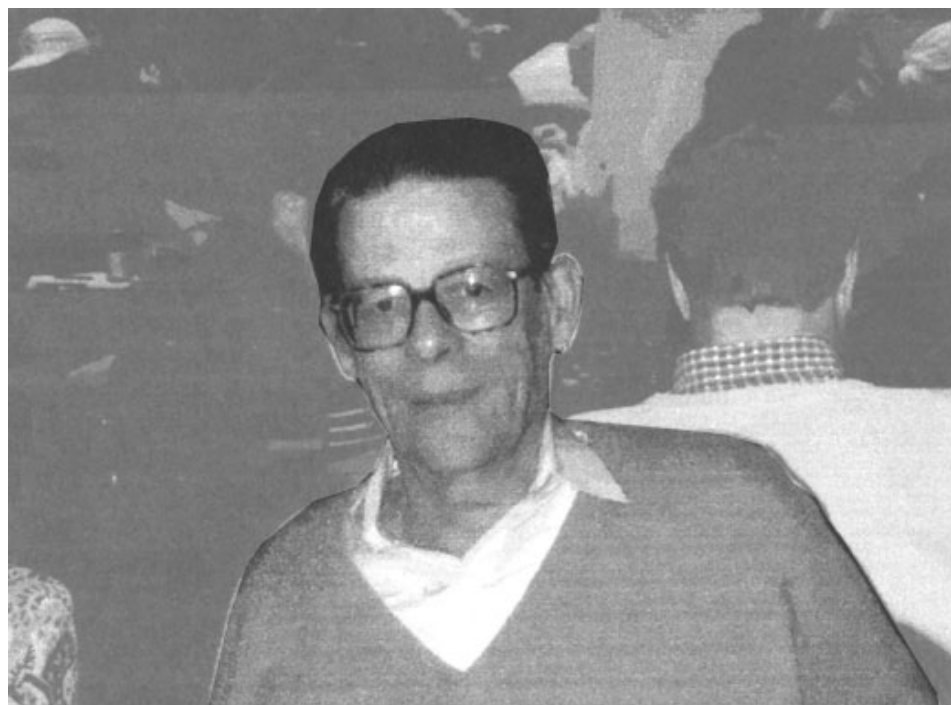

Hope we see you at the next Nationals, Hugh!

Take the 'Bridge to Broadway' tonight

If you missed "Bridge to Broadway" last week, you'll get a second chance tonight. This witty, intelligent, spectacular musical revue is a don't-miss. It was first performed at the 1974 New York NABC, and the music and lyrics have been updated for 2004 of course. The show is full of Broadway songs with bridge player lyrics. Augie Boehm has done a great job producing and directing the show. Free tickets are available at the Hospitality Desk, and the show will take place at 11:15 in the Trianon Ballroom.
