TDs Putnam, Van Cleve honored by their peers

Two veteran tournament directors have received high honors from their peers – the Professional Tournament Directors Association – for their work with the ACBL. Roger Putnam, national tournament director from Redmond WA in the Seattle area, was chosen as the recipient of this year's Fred Friendly Award. The honor is named after the late Paul Stehly, a Minnesota TD who earned his nickname because of the way he related to players.

JUST FOR NEW PLAYERS

Counting: an important bridge skill

By Lynn Berg

One of the basic skills we should all try to develop in bridge is counting. It's so frustrating not to know if a card is good, to err on whether trumps are all drawn — many nasty surprises at the table come from counting errors, or worse yet, failure to count at all. Get in the habit of counting, and your game is bound to improve.

♠9 6 5 2 ♥J 7 4 3 ♦4 3 2 ♣7 5.

With a miserable hand like this, it's easy to have your attention lapse— how can it matter whether you pay attention? Of course, body language that tells everyone at the table that you have a bad hand should be avoided: Your partner isn't allowed to notice, but it's fair game for the opponents. Listen to the bidding and begin to count the hand out, and you will not only seem engaged in the hand but you will be practicing an important skill.

Let's say your right hand opponent opens 1♦. You pass, of course, and the next player bids 1♥. Your partner bids 2♣, and you hear 2♥ on your right. How many hearts can your partner have? You should know, right now.

The most basic part of counting comes from listening to the bidding and painting a picture of the hand as the bidding develops. You can also place points, too. In the hand above, the entire bidding sequence was:

West	North	East	South
		1♦	Pass
1♥	2♣	2♥	Pass
4♥	All Pass

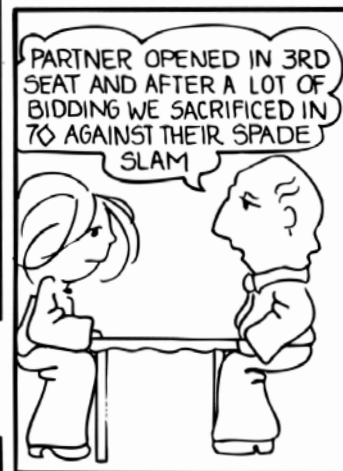

You know partner has an opening hand, not that the information is very important this time, but keep listening and the skill will pay off.

When you are playing the contract, keeping track of cards is tough. Let's say you are playing 4♥, in an eight-card fit. You lead hearts, and both opponents follow: that's 8 plus 2 subtracted from 13. That laborious process can be made much simpler, I'm happy to say. If your side has eight trump, the opponents have five. Just keep track of their five. So much easier to think, "They both followed, so three are still out." Begin by keeping track of the trump count, and try to add another suit at least. Eventually you will be able to keep track of all four suits.

When you lead against notrump, use the Rule of 11 so you know what is going on in at least one suit. Here's how the Rule of 11 works: When you lead fourth best in a long suit, anyone who bothers can subtract the number on that card from 11 to find out how many cards higher than the one led are in the other three hands.

There are some easy shortcuts to thinking about the Rule of 11: If you lead the 2, you can't have more than four in the suit, so everyone should immediately be able to place its distribution around the table. Remember, though, "There's none so blind as he who will not see." You have to bother to look, do the math and tuck away the information for later use in the play.

You should also be using other carding agreements as a defender to help with counting. For instance, if you have three trumps, high-low when declarer draws the first two rounds. This so called "echo" tells partner you still have another trump, information that will help partner count declarer's hand — and might even get you a ruff! With two or four, play low-high. Usually, the bidding will tell your partner if four is possible.

There are wonderful books and lessons about counting, but nothing takes the place of table practice. It's a skill your partnership should develop.

Pass	7NT!	All Pass	1NT

Opening lead: ♦J (much stronger than the club sequence!).

Bidding commentary: How often does one have 23-point hand facing a strong 1NT opening bid? With at least 38 high-card points between the two hands, 7NT must be bid.

Play commentary: As declarer, the first order of business is to count sure tricks. You have 12, three in each suit. The next order of business is to separate (in your mind) threat suits from non-threat suits. Don't get scared.

A non-threat suit is one that can produce no extra tricks no matter how many cards the opponents discard in that suit. Look at your hearts and spades. They are both non-threat suits. No matter how many spades or hearts the opponents discard, you will still take three spade tricks and three heart tricks. Period. Are you with me? Hang in there.

A threat suit is a suit where a discard in that suit might produce an extra trick for you. Look at dummy's diamonds. Look at West's diamonds. If, for some reason, West discards one diamond, dummy's fourth diamond becomes a winner. Look at your clubs. Look at West's clubs. If West discards a club, your fourth club becomes a trick. Voila! Clubs and diamonds are threat suits.

Play commentary #2: When you have all the tricks but one with two threats suits hanging around, the key is to play the non-threat suits first. Do it!

Play your spade and heart winners. If you do, West has to make one, just one, eensy-teensy discard. If he discards a diamond, dummy's fourth diamond is high, if he discards a club, your fourth club is high. You've just squeezed West to a pretzel by playing your non-threat suits first!

Bill and Susan Gillam of Columbus OH are enjoying playing in the IN area. "We're not doing well," said Bill, "but we're having fun."

studying math and science at the University of Washington. He jokes that after being recruited to a social game by some other students that “my major changed to bridge.”

He joined the ACBL in 1961 and took up directing while serving in the U.S. Air Force. He was stationed at Tacoma and spent weekends at home in the Seattle area when he was asked to help score a game that was bigger than expected. When he was asked to work as an actual tournament directors, he asked, “You mean. . . and get paid?” Putnam directed his first tournament in 1967 and became full time two years later.

Asked what he enjoys most about directing work, Putnam was quick with a short answer: “The people.”

Van Cleve also learned bridge in college, at the Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo. He was studying communications at the time with the goal of working as a debate coach, which he did for a while after graduating.

Once out of school, Van Cleve played more poker and chess than bridge for several years. He finally gravitated back to bridge because chess competition got to be too much for him. “Going to chess tournaments gave me a headache that lasted for days,” he says.

Once back in the game, Van Cleve started directing at a club in Grand Rapids. He has been a full-time ACBL tournament director for the past seven years.

Van Cleve says he enjoys the work in large measure because of the other TDs. “I like the people I work with,” he says.

Van Cleve credits the late Peter Mollemet with helping his develop as a TD. “Peter really pushed me,” he said, “He helped me a lot.”

Winners of the 2006 Chicago Mixed Board-a-Match Teams were: (seated) Lynn Deas, (standing) Rozanne Pollack, Beth Palmer, William Pollack, Julie Pettis and William Pettis. Julie Pettis is the daughter of Pettis and Palmer.

Inferences

On this deal from the second final session of the Von Zedtwitz Life Master Pairs, Bill Pollack drew the correct inference to land a pushy grand slam. Pollack was playing with Steve Beatty.

Pass	2♠	Pass	3♦
Pass	4♦	Pass	7♦
All Pass

West started with the ♥A, ruffed by Pollack, who pulled trumps, then played a spade to the ace and a spade to the king. The spade suit was not going to produce five tricks, so Pollack had to turn his attention to hearts for the slam-fulfilling trick.

He had noticed that West had taken a bit of time to make her opening lead, and he reasoned that with the top two heart honors, she would have had one on the table more quickly.

Accordingly, he played the ♥Q from dummy and let it ride when East played low. The ♣Q was discarded, and Pollack claimed his hair-raising grand slam.

Don't blame the computer

The following deal was reported by Pat Hirsch of Boynton Beach FL. It was played in a two-session Swiss teams, and thus was dealt by humans. Don't blame the computer.

Hirsch held the North cards, her partner (Irma Schulman of New York City) was South.

Dlr: North ♠ 7 6

Hirsch and her partner took the first four tricks – three top hearts and a heart ruff. At the other table, East and West fought it out with their two long suits, East eventually winning with the miserable contract of 6♠. North-South took the same four tricks for plus 300.

Tightening the screws

On this deal from a regional pairs event, Charles Durrin of Madison AL played well to land a pushy slam. He was playing with Hjordis Eythorsdottir.

Dlr: West ♠ J 8 6 3
 Vul: N-S ♥ K 8 5 3

 ♣ 10 7 6 5 4

West	North	East	South
Durrin		Disa
1NT	Pass	2♣	Pass
2♠	Pass	4NT	Pass
6NT	All Pass

Eythorsdottir’s 4NT was quantitative, not Blackwood, and Durrin, with a beefy 16 high-card points and a five-card suit, accepted the invitation to slam.

North led the ♦10, taken by Durrin with the jack. He cashed the ♦Q, then played a spade to the ace and a second spade to his 10. North won the ♠J and exited with a spade to declarer’s king.

Next came the ♥Q, covered by the king and ace. Durrin cashed dummy’s high diamonds, pitching a heart and a club, then played a club to his ace, rejecting the finesse. This was the ending:

♠ Q 10 ♠ —
 ♥ 6 ♥ J 7
 ♣ Q ♣ J 8

 ♣ 10 7 6

North had no problem on the play of the ♠Q, but he had no good discard on the play of the ♠10. If he discarded the ♣K, Durrin’s queen would be good. A heart discard allowed Durrin to take his 12th trick with the ♥7.

Pre-Alert/Disclosure forms

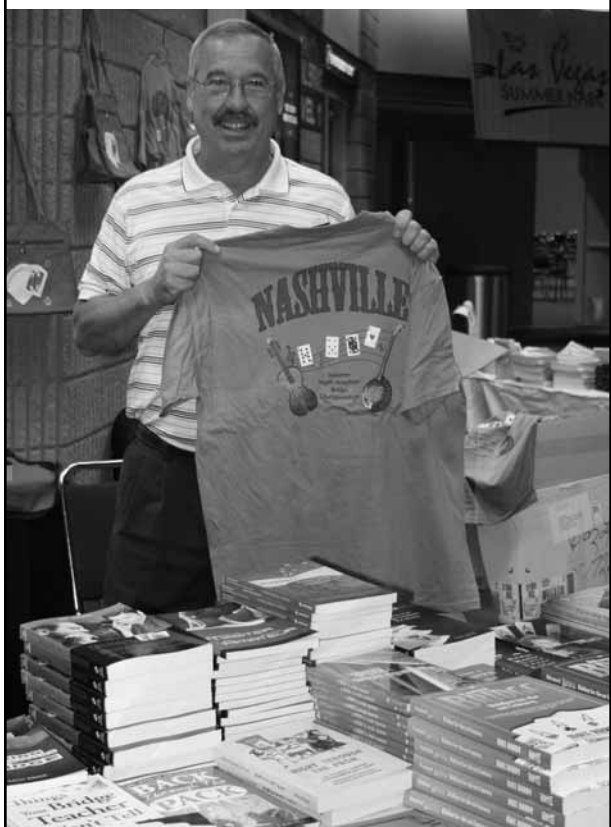

If your partnership plays special overcalls, you must fill out a pre-Alert/Disclosure form and make it available to your opponents when you play in events that allow Mid-Chart and Super-Chart conventions.

This applies to NABC+, regional or higher knockout and Flight A Swiss games. Look for the light blue forms on the table where convention cards are available.

Bridge at the highest level

Playing in the Spingold KO Teams, you reach 6♣ on the bidding shown below. Your left-hand opponent, Nicolas L'Ecuyer, leads a low heart. How do you play the contract?

(1) Preemptive.

(2) Key Card Blackwood.

Kit Woolsey was the declarer. After studying the dummy, he called for the ♥K, and it won the trick! L'Ecuyer had underled the ♥A to put Woolsey to a nasty guess.

L'Ecuyer could infer that there was no future in spades, so he led the unbid suit, hearts. Since North had made a negative double, and had asked with Key Card, L'Ecuyer made the inference that North should have the heart control.

Woolsey knew L'Ecuyer was good enough to underlead an ace at IMPs against a slam, and so countered L'Ecuyer's good lead — bridge at the highest level.

Here is the complete deal:

♠ A
♥ K J 8 2
♦ 4 2
♣ A Q J 7 6 3
♠ K Q J 7 6		♠ 10 9 8 5 4 3

Woolsey took all 13 tricks. The deal was played by North at the other table and again a heart was led. West won the ♥A, and (only) 12 tricks were taken for a hard-earned 1 IMP pickup for Woolsey.

Thanks for the spot

On this deal from the first day of the Senior Swiss Teams, Rich De Martino was thankful for one particular card in dummy when he found himself in slam. De Martino was playing with Jay Stiefel.

East, with his void in diamonds, did well not to double. East could ruff the opening diamond lead if West found it, but the way De Martino played the contract, that would have been it for the defense.

As the play actually occurred, West led the ♣J. De Martino put up the king and ruffed out East's ace. He then played three rounds of trumps, ending in dummy, cashed the ♣K, discarding a diamond, and led a diamond from dummy, expecting to claim if East followed. If East followed with a low diamond, De Martino could insert the 10 from hand. If West won, that would mean the suit split no worse than 3—1, so he would have the rest.

When East showed out, it was time for Plan B. De Martino won the ♦K and followed with a low diamond toward dummy's 9. West won the ♦J and exited with a spade to the queen and king. Now, three more hearts produced this ending:

♠ —		♠ 10 9
♥ —		♥ —
♦ Q 8		♦ —
♣ 10		♣ 6
♠ J
♦ A 10

When De Martino led the ♠J, West had no good discard. A club pitch would make dummy's 7 good, and a diamond discard would allow De Martino to score the ♦10 in hand.

Note that if dummy had not held the ♣7 — or if East had held the ♣9 or ♣8, the contract would have been unmakeable.

De Martino's expert play helped the team to a 15-IMP gain because at the other table, the contract as 7♥ doubled, two down on a diamond lead for minus 300.

Although the team struggled at first, they went on to make it to the second day of the event, and the came home with the victory. Three of the team members — De Martino, Stiefel and Geof Brod — won the event last year, adding Pat McDevitt this year in place of Steve Earl.

NABC Diary

Sneaky

Tournament Director Patty Johnson can be devious when she wants to be (or needs to be).

Earlier in the week, the Professional Tournament Directors Association scheduled the organization's annual meeting and party, at which the winners of two PTDA honors – the Tom Weeks and Fred Friendly awards – are announced.

Roger Putnam was to receive one of them, the Fred Friendly (see page 1 article), and Johnson wanted to make sure Putnam would be there to receive it, so she told him he had to be there to say something nice about another TD.

Putnam arrived, and when the time came, Johnson asked him to tell everyone what the Fred Friendly Award is all about (it's name after the late Paul Stehly, whose nickname was FF because of his way with players).

Putnam went through the story of how the FF Award came about, and thought he was through, until Johnson said immediately after he stopped speaking, "And here is this year's Fred Friendly Award recipient – Roger Putnam."

Said Johnson of that last stroke, "It came to me at the last minute."

Just ask

Tournament Director Donna Bowser of Reistertown MD is on leave at present, but she showed up at the Intermediate/Newcomer section to visit with Priscilla Smith.

While they were sitting and talking, a player came up and said, "Can I ask a dumb question?"

Said Bowser: "I've got one dumb answer left, so go ahead."

Good job, ladies

Speaking of Priscilla, she and fellow I/N director Judy Cotterman were perplexed to have people all during the day on Wednesday come up to them and say, "Thank you."

Smith and Cotterman had no idea what that was all about, but they would have known had their read their Daily Bulletin.

A photo of the two was published on the New Player page of the Wednesday edition, and the caption encouraged players to thank them for all the good work they do. Many players happily obliged.

Don't mumble

Barry Rigal offered this item from the "I do not mumble" department.

Barry and his wife, Sue Picus, were having breakfast on Thursday when Joan Jackson and Norman Beck walked by. After congratulating Jackson on her win in the Wehrner Open Pairs, Barry remarked to Sue that she might not know that Beck is "a consummate magician."

Said Sue: "That's funny – he doesn't look like a country musician!"

Beck said he has acceded to popular requests and will be doing a magic show at the Fall NABC in San Francisco later this year.

As anyone who knows Norman cannot help being aware, he likes new tricks and old jokes. A sample: "I wish I'd listened to my grandfather's advice." "What did he tell you?" "I don't know – I wasn't listening."

Diapers to doubles

Twenty years ago, at the 1987 Summer NABC in Baltimore, 2-year-old Dana Berkowitz (daughter of David and Lisa Berkowitz) shared a nanny with 3-month-old Shane Blanchard (son of then-Jill Blanchard, now Levin).

You could say, considering their heritage, it was destiny that they would eventually play together – and they did so successfully in the Tuesday-Wednesday Knockout Teams. Playing with Jonathan Ullman and David Lin, they came in first.

No panic

About half an hour into the game on Thursday, lights started flashing and a recorded voice ordered everyone to vacate the convention center. There apparently was some kind of emergency. Fortunately, players didn't get very far before it was determined that it was a false alarm.

As players moved back into the West Exhibit Hall, TD Sol Weinstein quipped, "That was your first break . . ."

The unusual notrump ending

Having played (and lost) a Spingold Knockout Teams match to the Welland team, it's easy to know that Antonio Sementa and Christal Henner-Welland are a fine partnership. The defense they found on the following lead was especially impressive. Sementa was West, Henner-Welland East.

Dlr: West	♠ 7 5
Vul: N-S	♥ K Q 5 3

Sementa agonized over his lead, but found the best shot, the ♦10. Declarer took the ♦Q with the ace and led a heart to the queen, then ran the clubs. This was the ending:

Declarer led a spade to the queen and Sementa's ace, and Sementa played a diamond to partner's king. When she played the ♥J, South was squeezed in spades and diamonds. He could either unguard the ♠J or discard the ♦J. Either way the defense had the rest of the tricks for one down. It was a 6-IMP gain because North-South at the other table played in 3♣ with an overtrick for plus 130.

She ain't heavy

On this deal from the first final session of the Bruce 0-5000 Life Master Pairs, South missed a chance for a spectacular score, in spite of a creative defensive effort by an opponent.

The deal was reported by Richard Chan of Toronto. His partner, the creative one, was not named.

South's 5♦ response to Blackwood showed zero or three key cards.

West got off to a good start with the ♥7, taken by dummy's ♥A. South could see trouble on the horizon, so he eschewed the spade finesse, playing the ♠A and another spade.

East won the trump king and, looking for a heart ruff, underled the ♣A K J, hoping his partner had the ♣Q. As you can see, Chan didn't have the lady, but declarer was apparently too tired to play the card himself, following low instead. When Chan found himself on lead with the ♣10, he had no problem working out what to do next. Partner ruffed the heart continuation for one down and a lot of matchpoints to East-West. It would have been the other way round had South taken his only chance to keep West out of the lead.

Break in tempo (BIT).

Final Contract: 4♥ by North

Opening Lead: ♣9

Table Result: Made four, North-South plus 620

Facts: The director was first called immediately after North bid 3♥ and was called back after the play. East-West stated that South broke tempo over East's 2NT bid. North-South acknowledged the break in tempo (BIT) but said that, since 2NT was Alerted, South needed time to think.

Director's Ruling: The director determined that there was an agreed BIT by South. The director judged that, in accordance with Law 16A, North's 3♥ call was not demonstrably suggested by the BIT. Therefore the table result of 4♥ by North making four, North-South plus 620 was allowed to stand.

The Appeal: East-West argued that although it is attractive to bid with the North hand, he had already shown a good hand by entering at the two-level with unfavorable vulnerability. East could have a game-going hand and still bid 2NT; so, 3♥ is not without risk. If North passed over 3♣, East would bid 3♦ and South might bid 3♥ and be set in 4♥ on a diamond lead, or North-South might not reach game. There is a risk in North's bid of 3♥, but when South hesitated over 2NT, that risk was virtually eliminated.

North had shown the majors with his 2♦ bid, but he had not shown 6—5 distribution. Opener had a minimum opening bid and left-hand opponent's 2NT bid most often is a competitive hand with a long minor. If East did have a game going hand, it would not be one that had significant interest in penalizing the opponents, since he had not doubled 2♦. With a five-loser hand, good intermediates in his primary suit, and a void in the suit the opponents might be about to play, North thought it was clear to bid.

The committee discovered that when 2NT was Alerted, South inquired. West answered, "If you pass, I am required to bid 3♣. East has one of several possible types of hands." After the explanation, North-South judged that South took 3—5 seconds to call, some of which involved digesting the explanation. They did not consider the time South took to constitute a BIT. East-West stated that South took about seven seconds to pass after the explanation.

The Decision: It was not clear to the committee that the time South took to bid constituted a BIT. Although players are encouraged to explain their bids rather than use the convention's name, for conventions that are widely used and understood it is often more helpful to name the convention. It probably took South a few seconds to translate West's explanation into lebensohl, followed by a couple of seconds to consider his call.

Upon looking at the powerful North hand, however, the question of whether South broke tempo became moot.

In order for a call to be considered a logical alternative (LA), it must be one that at least a significant minority of your peers would seriously consider making and some would actually make. The committee judged that pass was not even remotely close to being a LA call to the selected 3♥ call.

Therefore, the table result and director's decision of 4♥ by North making four, North-South plus 620 was allowed to stand.

Additionally, the committee judged that East-West should have recognized that there was no LA to 3♥ upon seeing the North hand at the end of the play of the hand, and should not have appealed the director's decision. Therefore, the committee issued an appeal without merit warning (AWMW) to East-West and to their team captain.

The Committee: Doug Doub, chair, Tom Carmichael, Michael Huston, Mike Kovacich and Bob White.

(1) Explained as showing hearts. Actual agreement is a diamond raise with an ace, king or queen.

Final Contract: 3♠ by North

Opening Lead: ♦A

Table Result: Made three, North-South plus 140.

Facts: The director was called after the play was completed and East had corrected the explanation of the double. North said she would have made a game try with the correct information. Had game been reached she would not have misplayed the contract.

Director's Ruling: The director determined that North was not damaged as a consequence of the misinformation; therefore, there was no adjustment indicated and the table result of 3♠ by North making three, North-South plus 140 was allowed to stand.

The Appeal: Only North and East attended the hearing.

North felt that with a correct explanation she would have doubled 3♦, which her partnership plays as a game try. South would have accepted. North stated that she misplayed the hand because of distress at missing game.

East was asked why West did not bid hearts at her second turn. East speculated that she was tired and confused.

The Decision: The committee judged that North-South received misinformation but that the misinformation did not substantially affect the value of the North hand. Further, the committee considered that North was not very likely to play more effectively in 4♠ at matchpoints.

While the committee was concerned about the disconnect between West's explanation and her action of 3♦, there was no basis to believe anything improper had taken place.

The committee narrowly believed that the appeal had merit.

The Committee: Robb Gordon, chair, Mark Batusek, Michael Huston, Chris Moll and Aaron Silverstein.

the match on Bridge Base Online while the other four team members finished the final 16 deals.

Fireman is a longtime player but, she said, "four years ago I relearned it all."

She and her husband, Paul, started playing in regionals and looking for better competition.

Before the Summer NABC, Phyllis had never played behind screens. Prior to the match, she and Breed did some practice in the new format.

Breed was highly complimentary of her partner. "If there was an MVP of this team, it would be Phyllis," said Breed.

Fireman said the Wagar team was Seamon-Molson's idea. "I didn't think I was ready," Fireman said, but she and Breed practiced online and made it to Nashville.

All the opponents, Fireman said, were friendly, "and my husband was very supportive."

Fireman won in her first try at a North American championship, but her teammates all have multiple major victories.

The runners-up in the Wagar Women's Knockout Teams: (front) Jill Levin, Jill Meyers, Rozanne Pollack, (back) Debbie Rosenberg, Hansa Narasimhan and JoAnna Stansby.

lead they never relinquished, earning a berth in the quarterfinal round of the Spingold Knockout Teams. The final score was 119-93.

Another high seed on the sidelines today is the team captained by Rose Meltzer, knocked out of the event by No. 12 Steve Robinson. The Robinson team trailed by 12 IMPs with 16 deals to play but won the final set 50-20 to advance.

No. 1 Nick Nickell also advanced with a 141-105 win over the Mark Gordon squad.

The Cayne team led early, winning the first quarter 27-14, and they were up 50-42 at the halfway point, but Mahaffey (Mark Lair, Zhao Jie, Fu Zhong, Fredrik Nystrom, Peter Bertheau) were too strong in the third quarter. Cayne and Michael Seamon were playing with Italian world champions Alfredo Versace, Lorenzo Lauria, Claudio Nunes and Fulvio Fantoni.

Fireman sets the pace

By Mark Horton

The first quarter of the Wagar Women's team final saw Fireman move ahead 43-29. There were two double-digit swings, and they both went in favor of the leading team.

North used Stayman and then introduced the club suit. South made the excellent bid of 3♦, and when North bid 3♥, South bid 3♠ as fourth suit. That was enough for North, who checked on key cards and then bid the grand slam.

There was nothing to the play and declarer quickly claimed plus 1440.

West did very well to enter a live auction at her second turn, and rather than simply bid 4♥, North made a try for game. East showed a good raise in spades, but understandably West had no interest in going beyond 3♠. South might have bid 4♥ over 3♥, but she knew she would get another chance, and when she went on to game she bought the contract.

Given that West was a passed hand, I think it is clear from the auction that she had to have a second suit, which was clearly diamonds. A diamond lead by East would see West win and then a club switch would be curtains for declarer, as it would set up the possibility of a club ruff.

Is that asking too much of East?
 Whatever, she led the ♠10, and once declarer had got the hearts right she was home for plus 620.

West had a gadget, and she used it to good effect. Her opening bid of 2♠ made it easy for East to raise to game. South was pushed to the five level and although she got a spade lead and guessed hearts, she still had to go one down, minus 100 and 12 IMPs to Fireman.

Sean and Rick Gannon, father and son from Atlanta, were second in the National 199er Pairs.

Nashville NABC: A look back to 1988

Sunday and Wednesday, some interesting deals were shown that were from the last time the NABC was held in Nashville. Here are some more.

West led the ♥Q, best for the defenders. With an unexpected shortage of trumps and transportation, declarer won and exited with a heart. East won the ♥K and returned a club, which went to the jack and queen. West now gave declarer a useless trick by leading the ♥J, setting up dummy's 10. South ruffed, played a diamond to the ♦K, and led a spade from dummy. East rose with the ♠K and played a second trump, and South guessed correctly by finessing the ♦J.

Now a low spade by South toward dummy's ♠9 puts the defense in Morton's Fork: If West wins the ♠10, he cannot lead another trump, and a spade ruff will drop the ace. If West ducks, the ♠9 forces the ace, and declarer does not need to ruff spades in dummy. And if East has the ♠A K 10? Then South had no way to avoid going down.

Spectacular discard

This deal proved to be quite a tug-of-war between declarer Debbie Zucker and defender Peter Nagy.

Bruce Ferguson, West, led a club, and Zucker proceeded to cash four rounds of the suit. Next came the ♥A and ♥Q and a spade to the king as Nagy ducked. Zucker took the ♦K, ♦Q and ♥K. Earlier Nagy had discarded a heart on a club, so he had to find a discard on the ♥K.

He was down to ♠A 9 and ♦J 5. He realized that if he threw the ♠9, Zucker could throw him in with the ♠A and force him to lead into her diamond tenace. A diamond would do no better — Zucker's fourth diamond would provide the twelfth trick.

So he pitched the ♠A!

This looks spectacular, of course, but Nagy had two excellent reasons for his action. First, any other play was almost certain to give Zucker her contract. And second, he had counted her hand, and he was virtually positive she didn't have room in her hand for the ♠Q, based on the bidding. This time the defense prevailed.

Two roads, both work

Berta Krop and Alan Schwartz took different roads on this deal from the Blue Ribbon Pairs — but they arrived at the same destination.

Dlr: East ♠ K 8 7 6 4
 Vul: N-S ♥ A Q 8

♠ 10 5 ♠ 9

 ♣ 5 4 ♣ K Q 9 7 6 2

♠ A Q J 3 2

 ♦ 9 6 5 3

This was the bidding at Schwartz' table:

West	North	East	South
		Pass	1♠
Pass	4♣	Dbl	Redbl
Pass	4♦	Pass	6♠
All Pass

Schwartz got the break he needed to make the contract at trick one — West led the ♦Q and East did not unblock the ♦K. Schwartz played for his only hope — that East had started with two diamonds to the king. So he took the ♦A, led to the ♣A and ruffed a club, led a spade to the jack and ruffed another club, and led to the ♠A and ruffed his last club. Now he led a diamond, and sure enough, East had to win. A heart return would be into the ♥A Q, and a club return would give a sluff-ruff. Either way, Schwartz had his slam.

Krop succeeded in a different way. This was the bidding at her table:

West	North	East	South
		Pass	1♠
3♥	4NT	5♥	5♠
Pass	6♠	All Pass

Krop also was fortunate — the opening lead was the ♦Q again, and again East failed to unblock. So she played along similar lines as Schwartz to arrive at the same endplay to land her slam.

The Grand Old Man

One of the grand names in tournament bridge is Vic Mitchell. In the Men's Board-a-Match Teams, he was greeted affectionately as The Grand Old Man by Gaylor Kasle and Jim Jacoby. Vic responded that they too are getting older. Then he proceeded to give Kasle an impossible problem. What would you have done? You hold the East cards as North goes down as dummy after this auction:

Your partner leads the ♥10 and Mitchell discards a club (!) from dummy as you win your ace. After much thought, Kasle returned the ♥3. Mitchell took the ♥K and ran seven clubs. Kasle had to hold five cards — which five cards should they be? On the run of the clubs, Mitchell had pitched four diamonds and three spades. Kasle decided to keep:

♠ K Q ♥ J ♦ K ♣ —, whereupon Mitchell led the ♦Q and made three diamond tricks for a total of 11 tricks.

The winning defense was to take the ♥A and shift to a spade at trick two, for this was the full deal:

A check of the recap sheet indicated that no one else made 5NT. "Der Alte" had struck again. And he kept striking — his team finished tied for second in the event.

Part-score deals are tough too

Part-score deals can carry as much weight as slam hands at board-a-match scoring. On this deal from the Women's Teams, the winners bid and made 2♠ at one table and defeated 3♠ at the other. No big deal, but it was a win for Rozanne Pollack, Lisa Berkowitz, Lynne Feldman and Sharon Osberg.

West led a club in response to her partner's double of the 2♣ Drury bid. Pollack, South, covered the ♣7 with the ♣Q and East won the ♣K. East shifted to a heart. South won the ace and drew two rounds of trumps. Then Pollack called for a low club off the dummy and the contract could no longer be beaten. It appears that declarer has to lose a heart, two diamonds and three clubs, but look what happens:

1. If East leads a heart, South rises with the king, puts West in with the ♥Q and West is endplayed. She has to lead a diamond or give up a ruff and a sluff.
2. If East leads a diamond, if West wins the second diamond, she is endplayed. If East wins it, she can lead a heart, but declarer can win and lead one. West has to present declarer a ruff-sluff and there is no third club loser.
3. If East takes her other top club and then switches to a red suit, the ♣J in dummy accounts for the eighth trick.

To beat the contract, East can shift to a diamond at trick two. After collecting her two diamond tricks, West leads another club. East takes two more club tricks and leads a fourth club, killing declarer's discard before West's trump is removed.

There goes the entry!

Jack Schwencke made a super defensive play on this deal.

Schwencke led the ♠J, taken by the king. Declarer went after clubs. He led to the ♣K and, knowing West was long in spades, played East for four clubs to the jack by finessing the ♣9. Schwencke was surprised to win the ♣J, but he didn't routinely knock out declarer's other spade honor.

Instead he saw that the club suit was temporarily blocked — he knew declarer was down to the blank ace. If he could make that suit block permanent . . . he led the ♥Q!

That killed declarer. He ducked, hoping the queen was singleton, but Schwencke continued the suit. Declarer took his ace and led the ♦J. That enabled him to take two diamond tricks, but he wound up down three — he was able to take only one spade, one heart, two clubs and two diamonds.

A Blue Ribbon grand

It isn't often that a pair bids and makes 7NT after an opponent makes a legitimate opening bid. David Lehman and Jim Hall accomplished this rare feat in the Blue Ribbon Pairs qualifying.

Not every pair opened the West hand — but many did, usually choosing 1♦. Lehman, North, overcalled 2♣ and was pleased to hear Hall cuebid diamonds — maybe there was game in these cards. Lehman showed his long, strong club suit by jumping to 4♣, and Hall, with diamonds under control, the fitting ♣K and a fine source of tricks in spades, bid Key Card Blackwood. When Lehman announced the two remaining controls plus the ♣Q by bidding 5♠, Hall had heard all he needed to know, so he bid the grand in notrump.

And it's a good thing he bid 7NT and not 7♣ — the club grand goes down with a diamond lead. That takes the entry out of dummy before trumps are gone, and there is no way to get back to those spades after drawing trumps.

Altogether eight pairs in the Blue Ribbon field arrived in 7NT, but we don't know how many had to overcome an opening bid by West. The other 7NT bidders were: Mark Itabashi — Alan Stauber; Gary Hayden — Jack Schwencke; James Washer — Bruce Neikirk; Shirley Blum — Steve McConnell; Jim Krekorian — Paul Keifer; John Anderson — Tony Kasday; and Bill Cole — Alan Schwartz.

Not by Blake Edwards!

By Alan Falk

The motion picture "10" was scripted and directed by Blake Edwards; 10 points in pairs competition may convene the same level of rapturous beauty.

On this deal, some East-West pairs were allowed to play in 3♣, which, with everything friendly, scored plus 130. When North-South competed to 3♠, it became necessary to defeat the contract three non-vulnerable tricks to scoop all the matchpoints.

Most Wests led a low trump. In case partner had an honor, they did not want to blow a trump trick. South won and drew three rounds of trumps.

Typically, South now led a sneaky ♦10 — the jack is better as South wants West to cover if the honors are split. West has to worry that South intends to run the jack from something like K-J-x. West had no reason to cover the ♦10, however, and East won the king, revealing to West the location of the jack. East now returned the ♥J, and South correctly ducked.

A heart continuation would leave West on play, and he has to give up a trick. So East did well to shift to a low club. South would have done better to give up trying to win the king, but few can resist giving it the old college try with K-9 opposite 8-6-2.

Since South would likely play the jack from ♣K J x, West should know that East holds the ♣J. So West can now lead the ♣5 to partner's jack, win the heart return, cash the other heart, and exit with a club. Declarer must then lose another diamond trick as well. Plus 150 for East-West was worth all the matchpoints in the Blue Ribbon and the regional pair games.

Convention card reminder

Each player is required to have a convention card filled out legibly and on the table throughout a session. Both cards of a partnership must be identical and include the first and last names of each member of the partnership.

If a director determines that neither player has a substantially completed card, the partnership may play only the ACBL Yellow Card and may use only standard carding. This restriction may be lifted only at the beginning of a subsequent round after convention cards have been properly prepared and approved by the director. Further, the partnership will receive a 1/6 board matchpoint penalty for each board played, commencing with the next round and continuing until the restriction is lifted. In IMP team games, penalties shall be at the discretion of the director.

If the director determines the partnership has at least one substantially completed convention card but has not fully complied with ACBL regulations, the director may give warnings or assign such penalties as he deems to be appropriate under the circumstances.

The objective of these warnings and penalties is the encouragement of full compliance with ACBL regulations.

Shuttle service

A system of shuttle services is being provided throughout the tournament to assist you in transportation needs. These shuttles cover the following:

1. Service to or from the Nashville Convention Center and the host hotels in the downtown area (Sheraton, Best Western, Doubletree, Courtyard by Marriott (4th & Church), Hampton Inn (behind Hall of Fame) and

2. Dinner service to restaurant areas.

Please note – While these services are provided as a convenience to help you enjoy your visit with us, we are not equipped to move everybody. All of the unattached host hotels and many fine restaurants are within a relatively easy walk from the Convention Center. The transportation is there in case you find it too steep, too hot, your puppies are just too tired, or you can't believe you ate the whole thing. If it rains, be prepared, because not all will be able to ride.

What to Look For

Service can be provided by any of three shuttles:

1. Large - Anchor 55 passenger – usually white,
2. Medium - A Black Mini Bus (has replaced the White Mini Bus),
3. Small- Black 15 passenger van.

Look for signs in the front curb side window (opposite the driver). Each has a "Bridge Buggy" sign as well as another sign to identify the mission (route) it is currently on.

Hotel Service

Service begins at 8 each morning, and it will run continuously through most of the day. There will be planned breaks in service for an hour at 10 a.m. and for a half hour at 1 p.m. Service will be more frequent before and after the bridge events.

Hotels served include the Sheraton, Best Western, Holiday Inn Express, Hampton Inn (4th and Korean War Veterans), Courtyard Inn (4th and Church) and Doubletree. Guests at the Wyndham should walk to the Holiday Inn.

LAST CALL FOR SERVICE IS 12:45 a.m.

Dinnertime

The shuttles run a continuous loop among the host hotels and the downtown eating establishments on lower Broadway and 2nd Avenue.

In addition, the black van will transport you to either Nashville's famous Swett's for great soul food or to Magic Circle for electric choices. Request these locations to the van driver and he will arrange a time to retrieve you.

Convention Center is the Hub

Important: The Convention Center loading and unloading point is the Commerce Street entrance. This also applies to tours or any other special transportation.

LP Field Parking

No shuttle Vanderbilt Bridge Club
You can park and ride from the Vanderbilt Bridge Club.

Departure times: 8 a.m. & 11 a.m.

Return service:

1. Black van at dinner break
2. Midnight from the Convention Center.

Look for the Bus!

Generally, the services are to be provided in a continuous loop, and there will not be scheduled arrival or departure times. No announcement will be made in the hotels. Please: it is important that you actively look for the bus so that you make the connection! The bus will wait only a couple of minutes at each "stop," and if no patrons are seen, the driver will move on to the next location. Especially on the dinner routes. Be prepared to get the driver's attention. Many of these streets are very busy or narrow, and they are not conducive to any type of long-term stop or blockage of other traffic.

Hotel Service Frequency (note – these are estimates)

Sheraton: 8 a.m. to 10 a.m., 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., 10 minutes; all other service periods – 20 to 30 minutes. All other hotels, 20 to 30 minutes during service periods.

Drivers do appreciate tips!
